Known for the gorgeous Adirondack State Park within which it lies, Franklin County is the picture of beauty and preservation. One of the most southern counties in New York State, Franklin—named for Benjamin Franklin—borders Canada and is home to some of the most beautiful lakes in the state. With an emphasis on environment and natural preservation, the schools in Franklin County are stand out and often celebrate the rich history of the area. With a small town feel in most areas, the tie between community and school is evident throughout all of Franklin County.
