

AES x McCarthy Building Companies

Who is McCarthy Building Companies?

If they sound familiar, it is probably because they are! McCarthy Building Companies was the contractor for a neighboring project in Sangamon county.

McCarthy Building Companies is the oldest privately held national construction company in America and has a long history of building the infrastructure communities rely on every day. From energy and transportation to healthcare and education, they take pride in being a community builder in every sense.

Their Renewable Energy team has delivered more than 100 solar projects across the United States, and they are excited for the opportunity to be your neighbor.

How do we work together?

AES is the developer, owner, and operator of Bridgeland Solar. McCarthy Building Companies is our selected Engineering, Procurement, and Construction (EPC) Contractor and will be building the project.

An EPC Contractor often accompanies large construction projects to make sure the project is completed efficiently and smoothly.

AES leads and oversees all work and planning throughout the construction phase of the project. McCarthy Building Companies works to execute the construction of our site, including hiring sub-contractors and other needed vendors to get the job done safely and efficiently.
